HUMANITARIAN ASSISTANCE

Save the Children is a recognized leader in disaster response. Whenever and wherever disaster strikes, its teams work to meet children's unique health, nutrition, education, and protection needs.

In any crisis, children are always the most vulnerable. Save the Children makes sure that children affected by floods, famines, earthquakes, diseases outbreaks and armed conflict get life-saving medical aid, shelter, food and water – fast. They safeguard children, help reunite separated families and help children recover from crises by providing emotional support and safe places to learn and play.
